What Are American Airlines' Name Change Policies?

The American Airlines ticket name change policy allows passengers to edit their name mistakes in the ticket in accordance with the rules as follows:

- Minor Name Corrections: Passengers can make minor edits like fixing a typo, missing middle name or misspelling up to 24 hours before the flight departure. You can modify your name on the same PNR.

- Major Name Corrections: According to the American Airlines Name Change Regulations, for major corrections, passengers have to generate a new PNR, pay a certain name change fare and then you can reissue your ticket with the correct name.
- Name Changes: Legal name changes due to marriage, divorce or other personal reasons take a longer time to process and may require certain documents of the passenger along with a fee.

Once you understand American Airlines' policies, ensure you are prepared with your documents. Airlines usually require a copy of certain documents to process the change.

If your request involves a legal name change, prepare documents such as:

- Government-issued ID such as a passport or driver's license
- Marriage certificate or divorce decree
- Court order (for legal name changes)

Call 18889261778 to speak directly with an experienced Customer Support representative who will guide you step by step.

Do American Airlines Charge For Name Changes?

Depending on the American Airlines name change rules, you are charged a specific amount for fixing name errors and name changes. Make sure to check if your ticket type, such as economy, business or refundable, affects your ability to make changes.

- Minor corrections are often free or cost a small administrative fee.
- Major name changes require cancelling and rebooking the ticket, especially if you are transferring it to a different person.
